ABOUT HP PAVILION

As the Bay Area's reigning palace of live entertainment, sporting events and family shows, HP Pavilion at San Jose, which opened in 1993, is a Silicon Valley showcase of comfort, beauty and technology – as appealing to patrons and guests as it is to the galaxy of performers who have played the facility and asked to be invited back.

The cornerstone of the revitalized San Jose downtown core, HP Pavilion at San Jose is the home for the National Hockey League's San Jose Sharks and has been a magnet for many of the world's most prominent touring concert entertainers as well as a comprehensive schedule of family shows, sports tours, summer pro sports leagues and amateur sports events.

The attractive, highly functional building features state-of-the-art acoustics, high-definition video replay scoreboards, the world's largest and most convenient arena club/sports bars/restaurant complex, a full spectrum of executive options, as well as, innovative eating and entertainment terraces and unexcelled event transition efficiency all complemented with 20,000 seats.

Among the entertainer headliners performing and sporting events at HP Pavilion at San Jose have been U2, Madonna, The Rolling Stones, The Eagles, Luciano Pavarotti, Barbra Streisand, Garth Brooks the National Hockey League All-Star game and the NCAA Men's Basketball Championships in 1997, 2002, 2007, 2010 & 2013, just to name a few.

Outside, a shining stainless steel facade supports a magnificent glass pyramid entry which soars ten stories above the ground. Inside, state-of-the-art acoustics and leading-edge concourse facilities in North America. No city in the world is more associated with high technology than San Jose, capital of Silicon Valley. And no facility anywhere is a better showcase for architectural excellence and technological innovation than the HP Pavilion at San Jose.

Servicing fans and clients alike, HP Pavilion at San Jose continues to deliver a wide range of entertainment to the bay area and continues to be the place to play!
